

Rebel Group Would Check Castro's Power

By BEN FUNK

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — A leader of one of the rebel groups which supported Fidel Castro tonight, today checks on the power of Cuba's provisional government that Castro set up.

Castro publicly criticized him as a troublemaker, ostensibly because his group seized some arms earlier this week.

Faure Chaumont, a leader of the student-backed revolutionary directorate, wants a legislative group organized to prevent one-man rule during the provisional period.

Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Castro installed, dissolved Congress Tuesday on the ground it was packed with supporters of fallen dictator Fulgencio Batista.

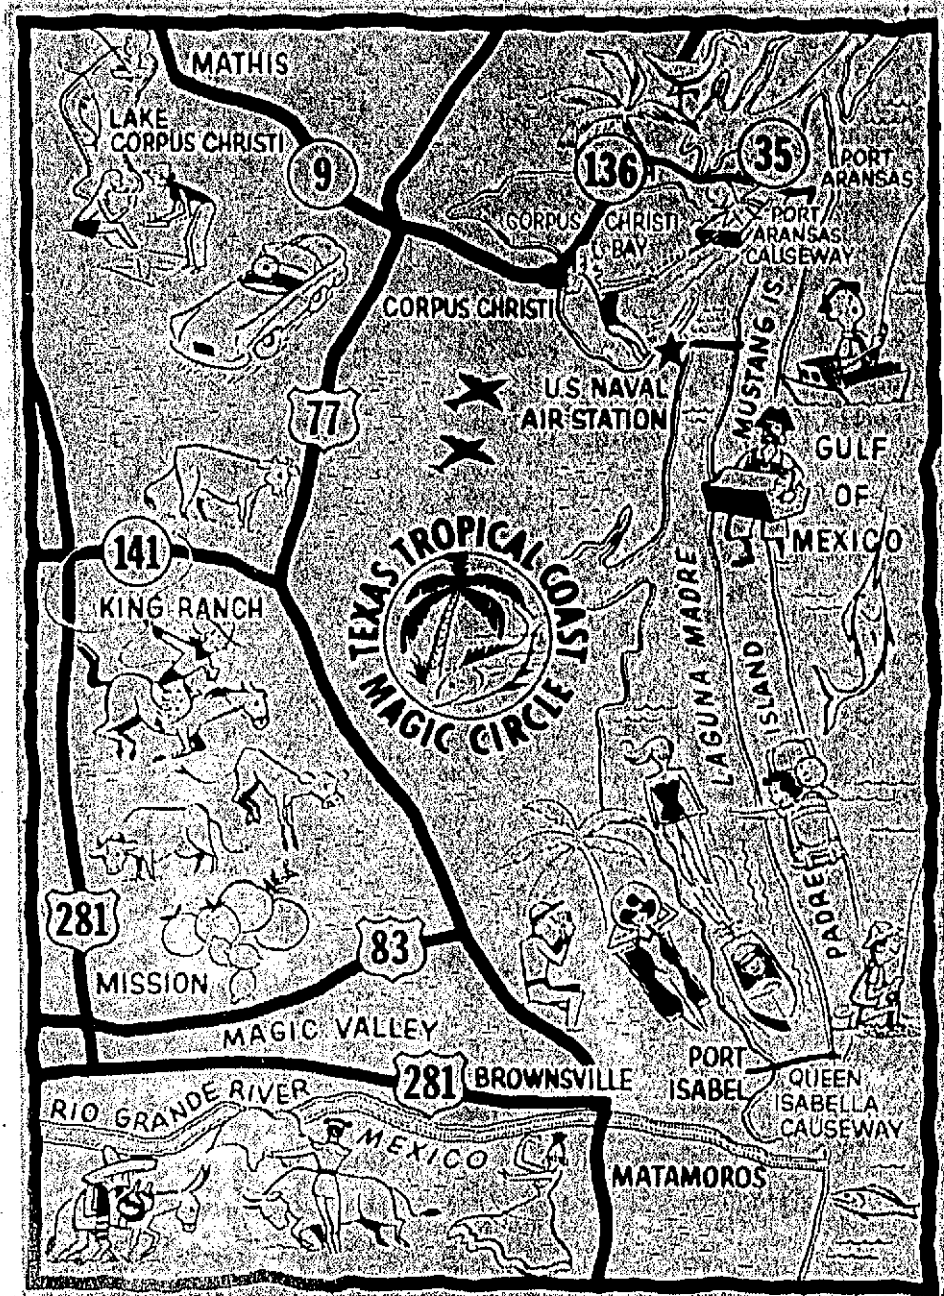

Chaumont also said Friday the directorate wanted free election within a year instead of the 18 to 24 months that Urrutia and Castro have said would be needed to get Cuba back on an even keel.

Chaumont had maintained earlier that the directorate was not getting a voice in the government equal to what he claimed was its part in overthrowing Batista. Two members of Urrutia's Cabinet are members of the directorate, which consists mainly of students plus some backers of former President Carlos Prío Socarras, a Castro supporter.

In a television speech Friday night, Castro blasted Chaumont as the man "responsible for the problems we have now" in setting up the new government.

In spite of the squabbling Castro's enormous popularity is expected to help him resolve the disputes and bring the nation together. Further government appointments might placate the directorate.

Texas Tropical Coast, to 'The Tip of Texas,' Magic Circle Tour This Week

Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of suggested highway tour maps which Hope Star will publish on a weekly basis. The series will cover the South and Southwest during the winter months, and the Northern sections in the spring. This is excellent material to cut out and paste up in a scrapbook for future reference when planning your vacation trip.

By EDWARD COLLIER

Almost any month is a good time to visit the "Tip of Texas," with its 131 miles of white sand beaches that border the Gulf of Mexico, and its four counties of citrus groves that make the lower Rio Grande Valley a sea of emerald green.

Within a few years this area well may become "America's Riviera" (one of its hopeful new slogans). The publicity drums have started to beat, but not as loudly as those of Florida and Southern California. In the meantime, a big part of this area's charm comes from the unspoiled attractions that nature provides for those who would escape to the sun.

My favorite Magic Circle trips revolve around Mustang and Padre Islands, a narrow unbroken strip of almost untouched beach and sand dunes that runs from Corpus Christi to Brownsville at the Mexican border. Only at the north and south ends, which are connected to the mainland by causeways, has man made any organized invasion.

Back to Nature

In the 10 miles in between you really can "get away from it all." Privacy to camp, fish, sunbathe, take pictures, collect sea shells or just plain loaf is yours by driving only a few hundred yards along the wide, hard-packed beach. Speeds up to 60 miles an hour are possible in many places.

Typical of the carefree life were these weekend scenes: a barefooted couple with Stetson firmly pulled down on head and polished boots safely back against the dunes, was sunbathing; 300 yards away smoke was curling up from a grill where fish were cooking, a happy baby was playing in his crib, the watchful family dog was frolicking in the near-by surf; back up on a sand dune hubby was posing his pretty wife for some cheese-cake pictures of the home-made variety.

Then there is treasure hunting on Padre Island. It is not uncommon, as you drive along the beach, to see people busy with a shovel. The Coastal Bend Tourist Association says that one old-timer raked $4,000 in ancient coins out of the sand; that as late as 1933 one woman dug up a metal box with jewels, bracelets, earrings, necklace and a sunburst set with diamonds and pearls. A number of ships, known to have carried money or treasure in their holds, have sunk off the beach since Cortez was taking his plunder from Mexico back to Spain 400 years ago, and on up until 1875.

Fishing Paradise

There are a number of interesting Magic Circle trips out of Corpus Christi; it's safe to say that the objective will be fishing. The Number One attraction in this part of "The World of Texas." Boats of every type and description are docked or out on the waters of

Castro Says Groups Are Hiding Arms

By LARRY ALLEN

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro charges that certain revolutionary elements are hiding arms for use against his leadership. He announced weapons and ammunition were seized from Havana's San Antonio barracks by dissident elements Wednesday.

This somber note emerged in the Cuban capital's joyous reception of the bearded civil war hero.

He warned his cheering supporters Thursday night they must guard their victory against both diabolic backers of deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista and certain revolutionaries.

Addressing a crowd of 30,000 at Camp Columbia, the army headquarters just outside Havana, Castro appealed to public opinion to halt contraband traffic in arms and leave "the little leaders" without troops.

He said some dissident elements — which he did not identify — had raided the barracks and seized a number of machine guns and rifles and 80,000 cartridges. The exact number of weapons was undetermined.

Castro said this was an affront to both himself as commander in chief and to his Havana area commander, Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos.

There are many varying elements within the revolution who may find themselves at cross purposes as events unfold, despite the look of solid unity at this moment.

Castro told the Camp Columbia rally that the next 5 to 15 years will tell whether the Cubans will profit from the victory over dictatorship and oppression.

Garland Jury Calls Meet on Gambling

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Garland County Grand Jury will meet Monday amid speculation that it will consider the summer-long gambling controversy here.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs issued a summons for the jury session yesterday. He declined to say what his purpose was.

Opposing forces in the controversy reportedly felt certain the jury would take up at least some phases of the conflict, which has resulted in the closing of several night clubs.

"I don't see how it can miss," the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record quoted one source close to the situation.

The dispute erupted in late December when Sheriff Leonard Ellis ordered certain clubs and gambling establishments to close.

Others were not affected.

The Sentinel-Record has said the closing order apparently was meant only for those who supported the losing candidates for sheriff and circuit judge in last summer's Democratic primary election.

More Charges Face Bank Robbers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Three Negro men who were sentenced to 18 years each for robbing a bank at Sherrill face additional charges.

Pulaski Prosecutor J. Frank Holt has filed burglary and grand larceny charges against the trio in connection with several break-ins at stores in the Little Rock area.

The three are Thomas Brown, 24, of North Little Rock, and Elmer Murphy, 29, and James Lee Atkins, 24, both of Little Rock.

Jefferson Circuit Judge Henry Smith sentenced each to 18 years imprisonment Tuesday for their part in the bank holdup. The Sherrill branch of the Simmons National Bank was robbed of $4,928 last week. Officers arrested four Negro men a few minutes after the robbery and recovered the money.

The fourth defendant in the bank holdup case is Ernest E. Richmond, 27, of Los Angeles, who has not entered a plea and is expected to stand trial. The other three pleaded guilty.

Holt filed his charges in Pulaski Circuit Court.

Would Let Public Decide on Rates

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A newspaper poll of state legislators indicates that a majority of them favor opening applications for rate increase to the public.

The poll was conducted by the Arkansas Democrat, which released its findings today.

Present state law provides that a filing for an insurance rate increase and any supporting information shall be open to public inspection only after the increased rates become effective.

The Democrat said that of 83 lawmakers questioned, 41 favored making the information public while 22 either did not answer the question or said they were not sufficiently informed to express an opinion on the subject.

Teacher Files a Bankrupt Petition

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Arkansas school teacher, who also is a partner in a Mississippi retail store, filed a petition of bankruptcy in federal district court here today.

Mrs. Bernice Freeman of Monticello charged that at least part of her financial difficulties were due to alleged embezzlement at the store. She said she was a partner in a fire supply store at Grenada, Miss.

In her petition, Mrs. Freeman said she believed an employee, who was not identified, had embezzled about $25,000.

She listed her debts as $10,533 and assets as $35,740.

The petition will be heard by Bankruptcy Referee Lee Cantor.

Visiting Russian Talks With Ease and Frankness

CHICAGO (AP) — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan has predicted a more important ambassador post for deposed leader V. M. Molotov.

Concluding a Midwest swing, Mikoyan Friday night talked with unusual ease and frankness about out-of-favor Molotov, now ambassador to Outer Mongolia, and other shunted Soviet officials.

Through an interpreter, Mikoyan predicted at a meeting of more than 200 lawyers at the Law Club of Chicago that Molotov, ousted as foreign minister in 1957, may yet be a more responsible ambassador post. But Mikoyan said Molotov will not be in a policy making position.

The gladdening Mikoyan also described the late, feared Lavrenty Beria "as an adventurer, an intriguer, a man without principles of any sort."

Mikoyan's talk climaxed a busy sightseeing day in Chicago, which included the premiere performance of the Boryozka Russian dance company in the Civic Opera House.

Alluding to Molotov's future, Mikoyan told the lawyers:

"We have full confidence in him as an ambassador because no issues of reform will come up in any country where he is representing us."

Molotov's trouble, Mikoyan said, was that he was a conservative. He lost out in the battle with the reformers, he indicated.

But then Mikoyan said: "I respect him (Molotov) very much."

Asked about Beria, Mikoyan said:

"I know Beria well. I did not respect him. He was an adventurer, a capable man but an intriguer, a man without principles of any sort. You might call him a business man in politics. (This comment evoked a roar of laughter from the audience and Mikoyan joined them.)

As open as Mikoyan was in discussing internal affairs in the Soviet Union, he gave little ground to the United States in the international arena.

"I would like to impress you with the fact that if you want good relations with us, we won't accept dictation."

"At one time we were weak," Mikoyan admitted to his audience including host Adlai E. Stevenson.

"But no one can force us to our knees now. Perhaps we have less knowledge and less capital—but we have will power. Let us speak as equal to equal."

Forrest City Fire Loss in the Thousands

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — A wind-whipped fire early today destroyed nearly a quarter of a business block in Forrest City. The loss was estimated unofficially at several hundred thousand dollars.

The fire started in Sharpe's Men's Store at 208 North Rosser Street about 2:30 a.m. Its origin was unknown.

Forrest City firemen, aided by units from Marianna and Brinkley, brought the blaze under control in about two hours but the ruins continued to smolder through the morning. Six business buildings were destroyed, all owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. King.

The flames spread rapidly from the men's store to Cohen's Department Store, Earl's Ice Cream Store, Sam's Used Men's Clothing, Kings Grocery and the Dreyfus Liquor Store.

The buildings in the path of the fire were virtually leveled. A few blackened walls were left standing.

At the height of the blaze, firemen estimated a 40-mile-an-hour wind was blowing.

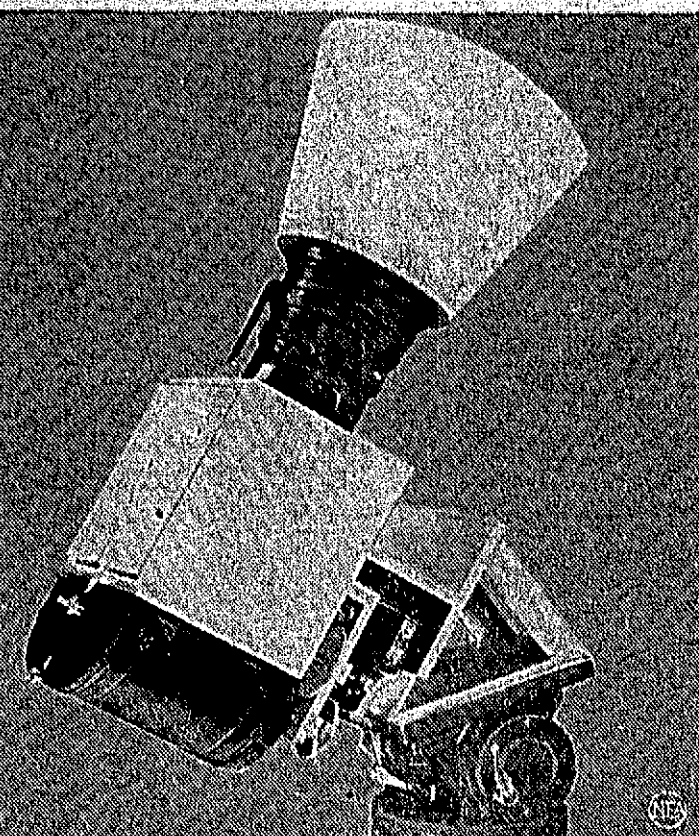

Firemen were able to save only one establishment in the quarter-block. This was the Ferguson Drug Store at Broadway and Rosser Streets. Leon Ferguson, the owner, said a double fire wall around his building saved it from the flames.

The only injury reported was that of Roy Williams, a Marianna fireman. Williams suffered a scalp wound when an awning fell on him. Hospital attendants said his condition was satisfactory.

Furlow to Trial for Slaying Official

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP) — Spence Furlow, 70, charged with the 1935 slaying of Prosecutor Coker Thomas, was ruled dangerous to himself and society at a sanity hearing here yesterday.

Judge Wesley Howard ordered Furlow returned to the State Hospital at Little Rock where he was confined after the shooting. Furlow recently was released from the hospital on a writ of habeas corpus, granted partly on grounds that no sanity had been held.

Many Fine Spellers Turned Out by the Old Blue Back Book

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"The cheapest, the best, and the most extensively used spelling book ever published" is the description found on the first page of "The Elementary Spelling Book" by Noah Webster, L. L. D.

A great many are more apt to recognize it as "Webster's Old Blue-Back Speller," because that name is more frequently used. It is hard to realize that this gem of a book so familiar to so many and copyrighted in 1880 was a revised edition of an earlier Webster Spelling Book.

But upon examining it, it is NOT hard to realize why children and adults who used the book were, as a whole, better spellers than those of today. A word journey through this little land of learning shows quite clearly how syllable repetition and word association were used to their best advantage in teaching the speller.

The student was given an analysis of sounds, a key to the pronunciation of both vowels and consonants, and visual instruction in writing the entire alphabet. Factual information was used to illustrate the meaning of words. This covered a wide range — from geographical facts to the components of copper. Therefore, some things were learned inadvertently.

There were 150 lessons which began with instruction in spelling one syllable words and ended with spelling "hum-dingers" like "moguilo," "obedience," and "silhouette." The last page of my copy of this book is torn, but I feel reasonably sure the "hard word" group included my personal pet problem — "spaghetti."

Spelling was made easier because words with the same sounds and similar spelling were grouped together such as "stork, squenck, and screek." Because of its similarity in sound, "shriek" was also included in that list. Each word was divided into syllables, given the proper accent, and its diacritical marks were shown. The student of "Blue-Back Speller" Days was expected to know these three things as well as how to spell and to define the words.

Arabic and Roman numerals were both used for each lesson, so the student knew how to count both ways to 150, at least. The book concluded with seven fables, all of which had good morals. Additional information was found concerning homonyms, forming plurals, adding "ing," and words of irregular orthography (that word sent me quickly to another of Mr. Webster's books).

You might say that "Webster's Blue-Back Speller" was one of the earliest pocket-size bargain books, because it had some philosophy and information besides much instruction on spelling, pronouncing, writing, and defining words. All proved to be a good combination toward getting a good education.

Publisher to Buy TV Station

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald W. Reynolds, Fort Smith, Ark., newspaper publisher, was authorized by the Communications Commission yesterday to acquire sole ownership of Fort Smith television station KNAC-TV (channel 5).

Reynolds now owns 49 per cent of the stock in the operating company, American Television Co. He will buy the remaining 51 per cent for $565,000.

Reynolds is president of Southwestern Publishing Co., publisher of the Fort Smith Times-Record and Southwest American and other newspapers.

Johnson Forces Take Charge in Filibuster Fight

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Compromise forces guided by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) held a firm upper hand today in the Senate battle over making it easier to choke off filibusters.

They won a lopsided 40-36 vote Friday in a first test of strength when antifilibuster forces tried to establish that each new senator has the right to adopt its own rules without regard to prior rules.

But senators demanding lighter curb on filibusters than Johnson has proposed kept on fighting.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill), who denounced Johnson's proposal as "a fake," offered a substitute that would permit filibusters to be halted by 50 votes, or a majority of all 98 senators, after 16 days.

Under Johnson's compromise, filibusters could be shut off and issues forced to a vote by two-thirds of the senators present and voting. The existing rule requires the votes of 60 senators, or two-thirds of the entire membership.

Douglas contended that the difference between Johnson's proposal and the present rule is so minor that it could be defeated "only with a powerful magnifying glass."

The substitute offered by Douglas for a bipartisan bloc of Northern and Western senators will come up for a vote Monday.

Debate on it and other proposed amendments will be limited to two hours each under a unanimous agreement reached late Friday before the Senate recessed for the weekend. An additional four hours of general debate will be permitted before final action.

Backers of Douglas' proposal for debate limitation by majority vote said privately they foresaw scant prospects for victory. But they were more hopeful about the chances for another amendment to permit filibusters to be limited to three-fifths of the senators present and voting.

Conservative, Liberal Fight in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans appeared heading today toward another liberal vs. conservative battle — this time over chairmanship of their Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Reports circulated among GOP members that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts chairman of the party conference was backing at the proposed appointment of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona as head of the group charged with directing efforts to elect GOP senators in 1960.

Some of his colleagues said Saltonstall had indicated he believed the selection of Goldwater for this post would be regarded as a slap at organized labor and as a salute to the party's conservative lives.

Goldwater was re-elected in November in a contest in which he attacked what he said was organized labor's use of "union dues collected under compulsion for political purposes. Goldwater also has been an advocate of right-to-work laws fought by unions.

Goldwater had headed the Campaign Committee once before.

Saltonstall who has the primary power of appointment said he has not made up his mind about the Campaign Committee chairmanship. His recommendation is subject to ratification by the 34 Republican senators when they meet early next week.

Goldwater was one of the conservative bloc which backed Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois for the floor leadership when Dirksen defeated Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky candidate of a rebellious group of GOP liberals.

Says U. S. Has to Meet Red Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declared today the United States must maintain powerful and flexible military forces capable of meeting the threat of Red aggression in either general or limited war.

In his state of the Union message, Eisenhower also told Congress that the Soviet Union announced intention to abandon their responsibilities respecting Berlin is proof once again that the Communists regard agreements as mere scraps of paper.

This disregard of the Reds for their own pledges, Eisenhower said, is "one of the greatest obstacles to success in substituting the rule of law for rule by force" in the world.

He pledged to continue work for peace by seeking to strengthen international agencies such as the United Nations.

He also said he would persist in negotiations with the Soviets for agreements which "may help to open up, with some promise, the issues of international disarmament." The United States and Britain are negotiating at Geneva with the Soviet Union for a ban on nuclear weapons testing.

In words clearly relating to that and any other negotiations with the Soviets, Eisenhower said: "We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms."

The President related the whole international military effort to the task of achieving peace. The first aim of this nation's policy, he said, is to "prevent war at any place and in any dimension." The second aim is that if a local dispute should flare into armed hostilities the problem would be to keep the conflict from spreading.

Says Elegant Women Live in the Cities

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
America's most elegant women live either in New York or in smaller cities such as San Diego, says Antoine, Parisian dean of hairdress.

After a two month tour of American cities, his first in several years, the temperamental and fabulist Antoine airs his views of the American scene, feminine gender, as follows:

"Small-town women often are better-dressed than those who live in big cities. San Diego women, for instance, are much smarter than those of Los Angeles. San Francisco women are charming, but the elegant ones live in the clouds — you never see them in public. Those seen in restaurants look neat and clean, but styled by mass production."

As to other cities visited during his tour, here are his ratings:

Washington: "Women dress much more formally than in other sections, but are inclined to be stiff."

Philadelphia: "As to elegance, very poor."

Hollywood: "It's not real, as everybody's on exhibition."

Houston: "It's so big you never see women walking — only riding in cars."

Chicago: "There's only one good thing about Chicago — the lake."

Antoine says he finds few mistakes in good taste among American women but there is a lack of individuality.

"Everybody is to be rushed here," says he. "People don't have time to be different. Buyers order dresses by the thousands, and customers buy them the same way."

If every woman has the same hairdo, it's because the hairdresser is too busy to be creative."

And he predicts a trend to greater simplicity in both dress and hair styles, because:

"Designers cannot change the lives of women. Today's way of life makes simplicity a necessity."

Sergeant Joins His Bride in the Grave

WYNDANCH, N.Y. (AP) — "I hope God will see fit to let me see Mickey again. I loved her so much I know I could never be happy without her."

The note lay on the car seat beside the body of Lawrence Baker, a 27-year-old Air Force sergeant. There, too, was a picture of his Japanese bride, Midori — or Mickey as he called her.

They met and fell in love three years ago while Baker was stationed in Japan. There they were married also. Happily they looked forward to settling down in the United States.

Six weeks ago the sergeant was transferred back to this country and his bride came with him. She was welcomed at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baker, and the couple stayed there while seeking a home of their own.

But after three weeks Mickey found herself ill. On Dec. 27 she was hospitalized and doctors found that she had cancer.

Last Saturday, with her husband at her side, Mickey died.

On Wednesday, the Bakers and relatives and friends gathered at a funeral home for Mickey's services. After a while it was discovered that the grieving husband had disappeared.

The parents went home and there they found their son's body in the car, parked in the garage with the doors closed. He had started the motor and carbon monoxide poisoning killed him.

There the parents also found the picture of Mickey and the note: "Mom and Dad—I'm sorry it has to be this way. It's my only chance for happiness."

Saturday their son will be buried beside his bride.

Hearing on Monitors Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts today delayed a hearing on a request of court-appointed monitors for broader powers to force a cleanup of the Teamsters Union.

He put off the hearing pending the outcome of an action in the U.S. Court of Appeals to require him to permit the union to hold a new convention, elect officers, and thereby get rid of the monitors.

Edward Bennett Williams, attorney for the Teamsters, disavowed any Teamsters connection with the Court of Appeals action. He said he will join Martin P. O'Donoghue, chairman of the monitors, in asking its dismissal.

The Court of Appeals action was filed earlier this week by John Cunningham of New York and

Wesleyan Service Guild, and WSCS Hold Joint Meeting

Fifty members and guests attended a joint meeting of the Wesleyan Guild and the WSCS of the First Methodist Church on Monday evening at the church. Prior to the meeting a delicious covered dish supper was served.

Mrs. P. A. Escarre, president of the WSCS presided. "Rekindling the Gift" was the subject of the program, presented by Mrs. B. A. DeLamar. Others appearing on the program were Mrs. Dick Stewart, Mrs. Alfred De Black, Mrs. Nellie Nelson and Miss Dolores Escarre who showed slides on her recent tour to the United Nations. After the group sang the hymn "We've a Story to Tell," Mrs. DeLamar gave the benediction. Mrs. O. G. Hirst was pianist for the evening.

Those serving on the kitchen committee were Mrs. L. C. Gatlin, Mrs. Lloyd Haynie, Mrs. Wallace Sae and Mrs. W. P. Spears. The table committee was Mrs. Wayne Eley, Mrs. H. E. Dorris and Mrs. Mark Justiss.

Evangelist Pace, Rotary Speaker

The Rotary Club held its first meeting of 1959 at the Broadway Hotel Tuesday with 36 members and guests present.

Horace Jones had charge of the program and gave a short discussion on the rules and principles on which Rotary is founded. He introduced Evangelist Martel Pace as guest speaker. Mr. Pace is evangelist in the First Church of Christ in Prescott. His talk was received with interest.

Guest of Dr. L. J. Harrell, Darrell Marsh, Harry Snider and Roy Goodwin of Little Rock were guest of O. W. Watkins.

Elementary Executive Board Meeting Held

The executive board meeting of the Elementary PTA met Tuesday morning with nine members and Mrs. Elvora Hubbard, principals of the school, present.

Mrs. Dudley Rouse, President, presided and plans were made for Founders Day and Father's Night to be held jointly with the high school PTA at the Elementary School on Feb. 12.

Mrs. Bob Reynolds read the new budget for the year.

Prescott Firemen Meet

Members of the Prescott Fire Department held their first dinner meeting of the year, Tuesday night at the Davis Cafe. All 16 members were present including two retired firemen.

The invocation was by Burrell Whitmarsh.

The business was carried out by Chief Cunningham. Secretary Garrett read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved.

The fire department answered calls to 12 areas and one auto fire. The chief again requested that when a fire alarm is turned in that definite information is given as to its location. Valuable time is lost while firemen are looking for the blaze. Public cooperation would enable the firemen to render more

Anthony Distinto, individually, and Distinto as president of New York Teamsters' Local No. 277.

Cunningham, once a bitter foe of Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa, in recent months has dissociated himself from a group of New York rank-and-file members who brought suit last fall to bar Hoffa from taking office.

That suit was settled under a compromise that allowed Hoffa to take office, and established the three-member board of monitors to supervise union cleanup.

The monitors took to Letts an order for his signature to implement his ruling last Dec. 11 that Hoffa had been frustrating and blocking monitor-suggested reforms.

Corpus Christi Bay. Anglers of all ages are on the piers and jetties.

Many take State 35 out of the city, cross the causeway at Aransas Pass and make their base at Port Aransas on the northern tip of Mustang Island. Here there is fishing from the jetties, charter boats and a new pier. Biting now are trout, redfish, croaker, sheepshead, may through November there are tarpon, sailfin, blue marlin, kingfish, mackerel.

On the return from Port Aransas, use the paved road down Mustang Island and complete the circle to Corpus Christi via the new Padre Island Causeway. This takes you past the U. S. Naval Air Station, largest of its kind in the world. Visiting arrangements can be made.

Favorite inland fishing spot is Lake Corpus Christi (State 9) near Mathis.

If your hobby is bird watching instead of fishing, then this area is also for you. Ornithological societies from all over America congregate here the year around to see and study the more than 500 species. Near Rockport, at the Aransas Wildlife Refuge, you may be able to see the almost extinct whooping crane.

Fabled King Ranch

Your next objective is south (U. S. 77) to see that portion of the fabled King Ranch to which the public now is admitted. "This million-acre empire covers all of one county, most of another and parts efficient service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simpson have returned to their home in Cincinnati, Ohio after a visit with their daughter, Mrs. J. R. Bemis and family. Harold Bemis returned to Western Academy at Allon, Ill. and Ted Bemis has returned to Lake Forest Academy, Lake Forest, Ill. after a visit with their parents.

Mrs. Horace Estes of Gurdon was the Monday guest of Mrs. J. O. Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie DeVore and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Willis of Grand Prairie, Texas were the Monday night guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jeter Willis, enroute to a Naval base in Maryland where he will be employed for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cummins returned to Conway Monday after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cummings.

M-Sgt. William D. Hale, Mrs. Hale, Janet and Mike have returned to Randolph AFB, Texas after a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brodie Haynie and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hale.

Marie Hall and Mary Howell have returned to the Methodist Home in Little Rock after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rettig, Kathy and Ellen.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robey and Gus have on the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Erwin in Little Rock.

Mrs. Henry left Monday for heading College Square after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Camille Kelley and family have returned to Northhampton after being guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hooks and Miss Sue Hooks.

Ray and Mrs. Alfred Ray Black had as their Monday night guest of three more. You turn off U. S. 77 at Kingsville onto State 141 for two miles to the one gate which the public may enter — but only after stopping and signing in with the guard. Some days last year, 500 to 600 persons took the permitted 12-mile circle trip on the fenced-in paved road.

Stopping points include the pens, pastures and barns where some of the country's finest livestock are quartered. Buyers from as far as Australia come here for the annual November auction of the famous Santa Gertrudis bulls and quarter horses. My favorite, however, was the training barn where I saw some of the famed racing horses who have carried the brown and white King Ranch colors to victory.

As you leave the ranch you pass an impressive group of buildings, repair shops, barns, stables and homes known as "The Headquarters" of this division of the ranch. You also get a glimpse of "The Colony," a village housing employees. The entire ranch has some 600 families living on it, and maintains its own school system.

Bullet-Like Roads

When you go back through the gate, you really have not left King Ranch. As you continue south, U. S. 77 runs for 60 fenced miles across the heart of King Ranch. There are no towns, no filling stations — only a magnificent bullet-like highway that stretches out to the horizon. It reminds you of the awe-inspiring size of Texas.

Your objective is Brownsville, a different type of border city. Clean and with beautiful homes, the thing that first will impress the winter visitor is the profusion of tropical flowers.

Your Magic Circle trips out of Brownsville lead you north and west on U. S. 83 through the "Magis Valley" as boosters have named the lower Rio Grande Valley. Take any of the well-paved side roads to see the emerald-green citrus groves and vegetable fields. Famed for sweet pink and red grapefruit, these groves also produce oranges, lemons, limes, tangerines and tangelos. Cotton, too, is an important "money" crop.

Your next trip will be south of Brownsville for 22 miles to old Port Isabel, another fisherman's paradise. From its historic lighthouse, now a state park, you can see Padre Island stretching north, and the new Queen Isabella Causeway that is going to take you to the lower tip of the island and Isla Blanca Park.

Primitive Beach

Stunning ultra-modern beach houses, plus several motels for those who do not like to rough it, are spotted along the first few miles of the island. But from there on north it is the primitive stretch of beach and rolling sand dunes described in the first part of this article.

Before you leave Brownsville you will want to cross the border and experience Matamoros. In literally seconds, you suddenly find yourself transported into a completely foreign country and way of life.

The shops are fascinating, the Mexican food exotic and excellent. There are bull fights, cock fights and the opera house built by Empress Carlota when France occupied Mexico.

But my favorite time is Sunday evening on the city's plaza. Hundreds of huge blooming rosebushes surround the pink-tinted bandstand. Until dusk the mothers sit and watch their children merrily play. Then, when the lights go on and band starts its melodies, the young people take over. By tradition, this "promenade" means that boys, in lines of twos or threes walk around the block-square plaza on the inside; in the opposite direction, girls in lines of threes or fours parade around the park. Greetings are exchanged, but there are no "pick-ups" or open flirting, much to amazement of visiting "Americans."

Even during summer, water only two degrees above freezing is found among the lava wastes of Icho's Craters of the Moon at National Monument.

Hospital Board at Spa Will Not Resign

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Directors of the publicly-owned Ouachita General Hospital at Hot Springs today rejected a request of County Judge H. C. Warren that they resign.

The seven-member board issued this statement:

"Directors of the Ouachita Hospital are proud of the record of the hospital and the present administrator and feel that it is not in the best interest of the hospital and the people of Garland County for them to resign."

Warren declined to comment on the refusal other than to say he would leave the matter in the hands of a citizens committee he previously had said he would appoint in connection with the hospital situation.

Board President J. H. Wheatley is vacationing in Florida. Other board members said they had been in contact with Wheatley and that he endorsed their stand.

In asking the board's resignation earlier this week, Warren said his action was not political. However, he and Wheatley have been at odds for several years. While Warren was tax assessor, there was litigation involving assessments he had placed on property owned by Wheatley.

Warren took over as Garland County Judge on Jan. 1.

De Vere Dierks Jr. acted as spokesman for the board, of which Warren is an ex-officio member.

Dog Attacks Child in Kindergarten

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 19 children in Miss Barbara Dragan's kindergarten class were romping in the school playground Thursday when a big dog suddenly sprang at the throat of a 5-year-old.

The child, Suzanne Siegler, could only lay there, unresisting, as the animal tore at her face and neck. The wounds required nine stitches.

It was near lunchtime when the dog, Keeno, a Norwegian elk hound about 3 years old, appeared in the playground outside Bexley Cassingham School in suburban Bexley.

Police charged the dog's owner with allowing a vicious dog to run loose.

Court Action Delayed in Church Dispute

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Threatened court action against persons seeking to establish a new Southern Baptist church adjacent to the Rev. Wesley Pruden's church here will be delayed.

"I have advised my client that a suit would be premature at this time," attorney Kenneth Coffelt said today.

Coffelt was retained by E. A. Lauderdale, an official of the Capital Citizens Council, to seek injunctive action against establishment of the University Baptist Church.

The new church has taken an option on land and a building, adjoining Pruden's church. Coffelt said court action would be withheld until sponsors of the church actually purchase the property.

O. C. Robinson, an official of the Pulaski County Baptist Assn., today said the University should Pulaski County Baptist Assn., today said the University church had elected officers but declined to name them.

Coffelt said the officers of the church Robinson and two other officials of the Pulaski association would be named as defendants in the suit.

The attorney said he was not certain yet who the church officers were. He released names of several persons he said he believed to be officers but these persons turned aside newsmen's questions about membership in the new church.

Pruden, who is immediate past president of the Citizens Council, said the new church is being established because of his stand against public school integration.

"These people have nothing against my character or by doctrinal position, only against my stand on the race question," Pruden said.

Lauderdale is not a member of Pruden's church. The minister said Lauderdale apparently was bringing court action as a Baptist, disturbed because church funds would be used to establish a church competitive to an existing house of worship.

Pruden's church is, and the new church would be, affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention, through the Pulaski Baptist Assn. and the Arkansas Baptist Convention.

Elephant Tramples Trainer to Death

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Sally, an Indian elephant that apparently forgot a former handler, trampled him to death Thursday.

Harold B. Canon, about 40, was killed when he entered Sally's enclosure at the Seneca Park Zoo. He had returned to work at the zoo only three days before.

The Arkansas Cemetery Board granted Russell the permit Aug. 13.

Later residents of the area complained that the permit was granted without prior notice to the public.

Judge Williams agreed with the objectors.

He also noted that approximately a year earlier the board had denied a permit for a cemetery in the same general area and said there had been no change in conditions since then. He said present cemetery facilities were adequate.

Over 300 Are Dead in Spain Dam Disaster

ZAMORA, Spain (AP)—A roaring wall of water, unleashed by a dam break on Lake Sanabria, engulfed the sleeping village of Rivaduro today. Less than 200 of the town's 600 inhabitants are known to be alive.

Only 12 hours after what is believed to be the worst catastrophe in recent Spanish history, rescue workers were able to enter the ruins of Rivaduro as the waters receded. Not even a hurricane could have done more damage.

Engineers of the Moncibail Hydroelectric Co. estimated more than 230 million cubic feet of water had swept down the 1,700-foot drop onto the village shortly after midnight. The roar from the bursting dam and swirling water was heard in villages five miles away.

Pouring rain, flooding the dam for the past month, added to the horror of the scene.

Kissing Case Under Study of NAACP

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The kiss that two grammar school Negro boys forced from the lips of a 9-year-old white girl will be pondered over again in the courts next week.

A New York lawyer for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People obtained a court order here yesterday for a hearing to get the boys released from reform school. The NAACP claims the boys, aged 8 and 10, were "imprisoned" illegally after the kissing incident at nearby Monroe.

Judge Francis O. Clarkson ordered the habeas corpus hearing, which will be held Monday before Judge Walter Johnston Jr. in Superior Court at Wadesboro.

The case has attracted international attention. Gov. Luther Hodges replied to a critic in Great Britain yesterday by pointing out that welfare and police records show the two Negro youngsters had been arrested before for minor crimes. Their home environments were called "unsuitable." Officials said the boys already were on probation when the kissing case came up.

"These two... were not sentenced to life imprisonment," the governor said in a statement. "They were not even 'convicted' of a criminal offense."

The boys, David Ezell (Fuzzy) Simpson, 8, and Hancover Thompson, 10, were sent to Morrison Training School at Hoffman for an indefinite period in November. State authorities have said that the children's conduct and their domestic situations will determine the length of their stay.

The NAACP claimed in briefs filed yesterday that the boys were arrested in Monroe, Oct. 20 and charged with assaulting three white girls, aged 8 and 7, by kissing them on the cheek while at play. County Chaplain of the NAACP, also asserted that the boys were freed before Juvenile Court Judge J. Hampton Joyce on Nov. 4 and sentenced to the reformatory "until they are released before that time for good conduct."

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS!

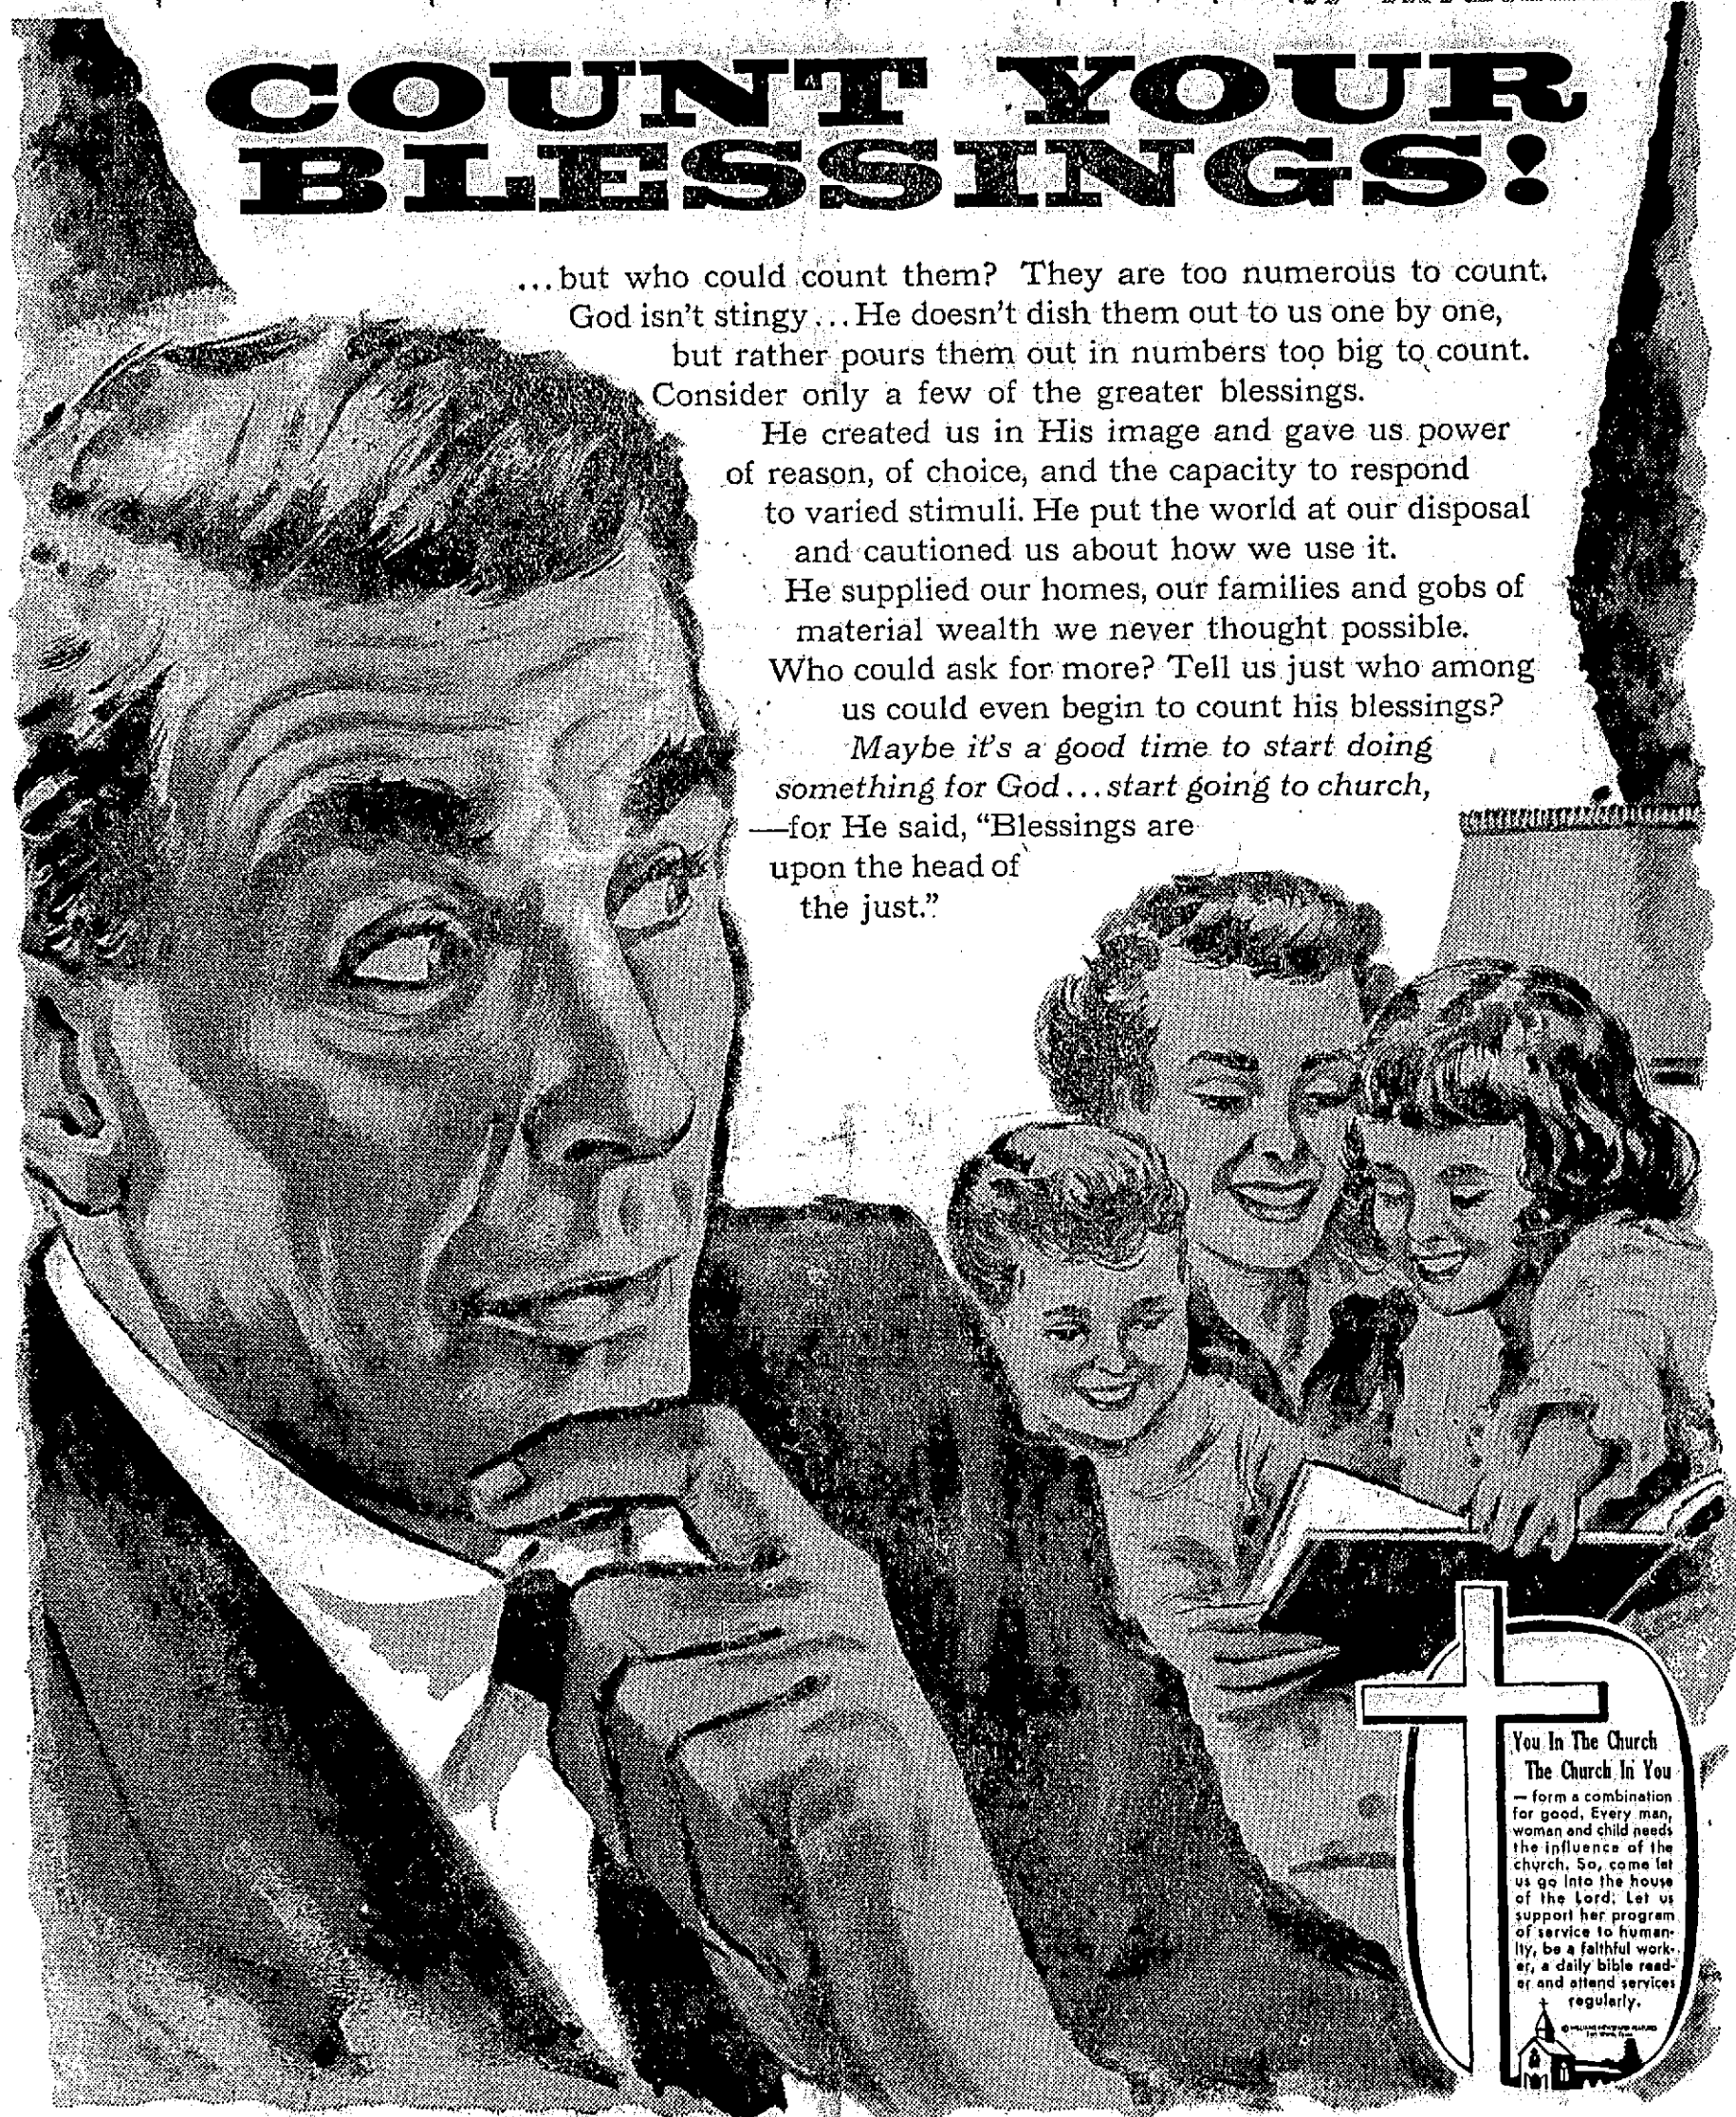

...but who could count them? They are too numerous to count. God isn't stingy... He doesn't dish them out to us one by one, but rather pours them out in numbers too big to count. Consider only a few of the greater blessings.

He created us in His image and gave us power of reason, of choice, and the capacity to respond to varied stimuli. He put the world at our disposal and cautioned us about how we use it.

He supplied our homes, our families and gobs of material wealth we never thought possible. Who could ask for more? Tell us just who among us could even begin to count his blessings?

Maybe it's a good time to start doing something for God... start going to church, —for He said, "Blessings are upon the head of the just."
